More Trouble in Seventh Precinct

In the seventh precinct of the fifth district, there were 172 voters polled.
There were 173 votes in the ballot box, however, Kahlua-wana thus repeating, though on a slighter scale, the bad break it made in the primary for the first convention.

There were two tickets for delegates.
One was of J. L. Holt, T. McCants Stewart and Dr. Geo. H. Huddy, the other of E. C. Winston, Wm. Henry and Nalua. The vote stood 91, 89 and 86 for the Holt, and 86, 85 and 85 for the Winston ticket. Thus, Winston tied Huddy and Henry and Nalua came within one each of doing likewise. It is therefore easily possible that the single ballot in excess might have changed the result as to one delegate.

The contest was a warm one. Yet, so far as can be learned today, there is no disposition to have the angry wrangle of the previous election repeated over the ballot box faux pas. It is said that the judges are disposed to refer the matter to the Territorial Central Committee.

Supporters of the Winston ticket attribute their defeat to the agency of W.
C. Achi, who came in from the adjoining precinct and used his considerable influence with the natives to carry T.
McCants Stewart. This in return for Mr. Stewart's advocacy of Mr. Achi for the Senate.

The Kerr Float.

After two of the judges of parade had agreed on giving L. B. Kerr & Co.'s float second prize yesterday, the third on being asked if he agreed to the award objected to it on the ground that it had been decorated by Japanese. As he had only street talk for this, the award was made unanimous. The judges agreed that if the mottoes of the Union had been violated in this regard, the information should have come to them in a regular protest against the float. It transpired later that the information was not correct.
O. H. Harlan was the designer and decorator of the Kerr float, and did not allow a Japanese to drive a single tack.

Police News.

E. B. Breckenridge and E. F. Blakdell have severed their connection with the Mounted Patrol.

Antone Fernandez has resigned as deputy sheriff of Ewa. He leaves for Hamakua on private business in the Kinau this afternoon.

'T WAS DEWEY WON THE RACE

Hobron Takes the Lead
Throughout the Race to Lahaina.

HAS UNDISPUTED CLAIM TO EVENING BULLETIN CUP

Light Winds and Trip to South of Lanai Spoiled La Paloma's Chances —Incidents of Jolly Trip of Yachtsmen.

The ocean yacht race to Lahaina and return for the "Evening Bulletin cup" between Commodore Hobron's Dewey and Commodore Macfarlane's La Paloma was won hands down by the Dewey. On the run up the Dewey passed the Lahaina buoy exactly 5 hours and 55 minutes ahead of the La Paloma. Returning the Dewey passed the spar buoy 31 minutes before the La Paloma made the mark.

When the contestants came together in the cabin of the La Paloma Monday afternoon, the race was finished, it was unanimously decided that the La Paloma being more or less Spanish it would have been impossible under any circumstances for her to get ahead of the Dewey. It was Dewey weather right straight through. Macfarlane anticipated the Dewey would lead on the run up, but hoped the La Paloma would make it up on the run down, but the light winds and calm died the business for the Dewey. Even the breeze of rain drops seemed to send Hobron's boat skipping along.

The yachts passed the lighthouse in the harbor at exactly 4:13 1/2 Saturday afternoon. The breeze was light and within half an hour the Dewey was well in the lead. The La Paloma held up to the wind better than had been anticipated and hopes were raised that she would hold a better course towards Lanai than on her former race. The Dewey passed Diamond Head at 4:57 p. m. and the La Paloma at 5:10 1/2. At dark the Dewey was hull down in the lead and fully a mile to the leeward of the La Paloma's course.

Hobron kept the Dewey on a steady course for Lanai throughout the night bearing well to the south to keep out of the calms which he struck on his previous trip in the Gladys. An easy breeze favored him and by daylight he had come about and was off Kaunakakai in time to take advantage of the favorable land breeze for the tack across the main channel to the north side of Lanai. From Lanai, the Dewey made an easy run across to Lahaina making the buoy at 12:35 Sunday noon.

Just what happened on board the La Paloma is a matter of discussion. At sundown she was holding well up on her course for the northern end of Lanai. When the moon rose Skipper George was at the wheel, Commodore Macfarlane, Dick Ivers and Harry Wilder had turned in, Farrington held an important position over the lee rail and Jock Carter bunked on the windward side to "keep watch." Sometime during the night "Jock" arose to ask the skipper when he was "going to tack."

"Bimeby" was the reply and again quiet reigned throughout the ship. The next interruption was from Jock. "Gee whiz, we're in a calm. Oh, boys, look at those sails flop." Macfarlane came up to cheer the boys' heart with the statement that it was just the kind of a breeze that would send the Dewey along. Skipper George was asked where Lanai was and answered "Over there." This settled things for another season. As the east began to light up Sunday morning Jock again turned out to view the horizon, but land was not in sight.

"Where's Lanai?" he roared.

"Over there," answered the skipper.

"Where's Molokai light?"

"Over there."

"Gee whiz, I can't see any land."

Everybody was up on deck and no one could see any land. "We're anchored on the equator," remarked Jock and after a counsel of war it was decided that it was even so and a voice from the lee rail murmured that one passenger had struck the bottom of his stomach and would soon be ready to pass up his shoes.

Gradually the land came to view, the south point of Lanai. A stiff breeze and a heavy sea to go up against along the Lanai coast put no joy in the hearts of the La Paloma aggregation. It was a thrash with the lee rail under and water in the cockpit from start to finish. About 10 o'clock the yacht was off Kaunakakai and stood away on the starboard tack to cross the Maui channel. The wind steadily increased and when the channel was reached, it was blowing a "living gale" so the commodore said and the big rollers made things lively. Macfarlane kept a keen eye on his masts and wasn't ready to bet even that they wouldn't go over the side and the race end in a wreck.

But Macfarlane was on his nerve and every stitch of sail was carried without a reef. Everybody on board was wet through and the lee rail was well occupied. The channel was crossed without accident and shortly after noon the La Paloma put about off the Lanai coast for the run to Lahaina. Then the wind died out.

Jock Carter occupied his time counting the attacks of cane on Maunalei. The exact number is 5683 by actual count.
Dick Ivers gave a lecture on how good a hot cup of coffee would feel. After about four hours study of Lanai the welcome breeze put in an appearance and Lahaina buoy was turned at 6:30 Sunday night.

A short visit ashore was made on board the Dewey and on shore where the yachtsmen were treated cordially and it was proved conclusively that what Ivers said about the benefits of hot coffee was "no dream." The only discrepancy on shore was when the Chinese proprietor of the restaurant refused to give Ivers two good eggs for the "ripe" one handed out on the first time around.

The start back was made at 3:35 Monday morning, a light land breeze taking the yachts well into the open.
Hobron took the Dewey well towards Lahaina. The La Paloma had seen enough of Lanai and kept well up towards Maui. At daylight Hobron was carrying a club topsail and balloon jib.
The yachts kept well together. In a heavy breeze the La Paloma easily out-footed the Dewey, but the wind was fifteen and finally settled down to a "regular Dewey breeze." This gave Hobron a lead of about half a mile.

The breeze gradually died down till sails were flapping. It was during this period that Jock Carter went below to "cook a dish." The sea was running so high that Jock appeared with his dish and the assertion, which no one would dispute, that an earthquake and tidal wave had struck while he was below.

Rain squalls accompanied the calm and in the midst of it the Dewey slipped ahead again. When about noon the regular trades began the Dewey was fully an hour in the lead. With a decent breeze the La Paloma began to show her proper paces and an easy run was made to port. The only incident of the latter part of the run was Commodore Macfarlane's discussion on the topic, "Life is a fleeting show."

The Dewey rounded the spar buoy at 3:09 and the La Paloma at 3:40 p. m.
Had the time been a little closer there might have been some discussion about Hobron's failure to round the Lahaina buoy on the run home. As it was the La Paloma crowd stood treat and smiled. They had had a mighty good time and are confident that with a breeze, no trips to the equator and no earthquakes the La Paloma can beat anything in Hawaiian waters. Whatever the yacht might do, no one can discount Commodore Macfarlane as a sportsman and good fellow. Those on board the Dewey were: T. W. Hobron, S. G. Wilder, George Fluth, E. Mitchell and C. Mitchell. The La Paloma party consisted of C. W. Macfarlane, Richard Ivers, Harry Wilder, Oliver Carter, W.
R. Farrington, Skipper "George" and two native sailors.

SHARP BASEBALL CONTEST.

One of the best baseball contests of the season was held Monday on the Makiki grounds between picked nines from the employees of E. O. Hall & Son and Theo. H. Davies & Co. The Davies boys claim they lost the game through a rank decision of the umpire in the seventh inning. Following is the score:

Innings — 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
E. O. H.—0 0 1 0 3 2 2 0 8
T. H. D.—2 0 0 0 0 4 1 0 7

Makiki Beat Auwalolimu.

In a stubbornly contested baseball game on the Makiki grounds yesterday afternoon, the Makiki team beat the Auwa-lolimu to the time of 12 to 9. There was a very large attendance and the game was full of features. M. Simpson of the Makiki made a three runner and then a home run. The latter brought in three runs.
None of the same team also made a three runner. The score by innings was as follows:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 Auwalolimu—1 3 0 4 0 0 1—9 Makiki—2 1 0 0 2 0 6—12

Time of play—1 1/2 hours.

Should the Hall team except the challenge of the Makiki team, soon to be sent in, Sam Decker will take charge of the latter for this one game.

United States Post Office Inspector M.
H. Flint, who has been so successful in inaugurating the American postal system in the Territory, leaves in the Australia this afternoon for his headquarters in Los Angeles. Mr. Flint has done his work in Hawaii with neatness and dispatch, and has made many friends here who will hope that Uncle Sam will send him this way again.

REPUBLICANS OF MAUI

HAWAIIANS COME OUT
STRONG FOR THE PARTY

Meetings Held in Various Precincts—Independent Party Naming Legislative Candidates—Ke-poikai at Work.

Walluku, Sept. 1.—The members of the Walluku Republican Club held a meeting in the Walluku courthouse on Monday evening for the purpose of organizing permanently. Mr. Kepoikai called the meeting to order.

After some preliminary remarks made by some of the leading members of the club, Senator A. N. Kepoikai was unanimously elected chairman of the Fifth Precinct (Walluku) of the third electoral district. Sheriff L. M.
Baldwin, Charles Lennox and J. P.
Silva were elected judges of election to be held in September for the purpose of electing three delegates to the district convention. James N. K. Koloa was elected secretary. Messrs. Geo.
Homa, S. E. Kaleikau, A. N. Kepoikai, and J. K. Kahokele were nominated as candidates for delegates to the district convention.

Mr. Kepoikai at the call of the meeting gave an outline of the visit of the delegates to the National Convention at Philadelphia, and the audience was quite impressed with the interesting remarks of the speaker.

The same evening the Independent party of Walluku held a meeting in the skating rink which was very largely attended. Among the orators of the evening were Thos. Clark, S. E. Kalue, Jno. T. Aluli and other political lights of Walluku. It was voted that Mr.
Clark follow the Maui Board of Registration on their circuit to advise the Hawaiians to come forward and register, and some one has aptly remarked that Mr. Clark ought to be commissioned as an A. B. C. to the board with the rank of major.

The Independent party of Walluku has placed in nomination the following candidates for legislative honors: T.

B. Lyons and P. Cockett for Senators, and John Richardson and S. E. Kalue for House of Representatives.

The Walluku Republican club to be hereafter known as the fifth precinct of the third electoral district had another meeting in the Walluku courthouse last Tuesday evening to hear the report of the committee on by-laws.

The report of the committee was adopted with few necessary amendments.
Last Thursday evening, 30th inst., at the urgent request of the natives of the Republican Club of the ninth precinct in that district, there being over two hundred bona fide voters present, D.
C. Lindsay and W. O. Aiken were elected President and Secretary respectively of that club.

The meeting was said to be very enthusiastic and as delays are dangerous, the meeting proceeded immediately to the election of nine delegates to the district committee. The following were declared duly elected by the three judges of election: H. P. Baldwin, D.
C. Lindsay, W. O. Aiken, C. H. Dickey, Rev. J. Kallio, Eli Kekipi, J. P. Ka-pibe, Jno. Kallua, W. E. K. Makai.

The native Republican party of Honu-la district, 7th precinct, held a meeting in the Honoula courthouse being called to order by M. Kealoa, for the purpose of organizing permanently and also electing three delegates to the district committee.

The Republican party of all the other voting precincts throughout the third district, including the islands of Maui, Molokai, Lanai, and Kahoolawe, will likewise hold their elections for delegates to the district convention this afternoon. The natives are coming out very strongly in support of the principles of the Republican party, and the coming elections will show this to be the correct view.

At a primary election of the sixth precinct, Kahului, last evening, the following permanent officers were elected: President, F. M. Church; secretary, J.
J. Walsh; treasurer, R. W. Filler.

Judges—Messrs. Vander Nallen, Andrew Adams and F. C. Allen. Delegates —W. J. Lowrey, T. M. Church, J. Whitford.

S. C. ALLEN FROM 'FRISCO.
